THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

If the San Francisco police haven't got red faces, they should have. The three youths they picked up on suspicion of pulling the recent heist on the Stumble Inn in Colma have finally been released from the bastille.

The cops had JOHN DE MARIA, 19, formerly of this city, LA VON CULLUM, same age, of 1725 Fifth avenue, San Bruno, and ROBERT POTTEET, 20, of 63 Farnum, SF, picked up on a concealed weapons charge the night of the robbery.

After subjecting them to the line-up, De Maria and Cullum were thrown into prison. They pleaded guilty to the concealed weapons charge, and summarily were "invited" to an inhumane week in the jug.

The list of concealed weapons: three radiator hoses, or "saps," as the police called them; an 1886 .32 calibre rimfire pistol, given the saps by a gun-collector friend. It's efficiency of operation was impaired somewhat, since it was broken in half, had no hammer, and, according to MRS. JOHN DE MARIA, 818 Shields, SF, mother of one youth, had not been fired for 50 years.

The cops kept the deadly weapons, but had the graciousness to let the owners go home after their week's stay.

JOSEPH TOBONI, president of the WESTLAKE IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION, made a quick jaunt to San Diego Sunday, after receiving word that his sister, ELVIRA WALTON, was critically ill in San Diego Naval hospital. Toboni came back Tuesday, after the crisis passed.

Daly City's well-known toilet doctor, faucet fixer and active citizen TOM TROMBORG, like Little Miss Muffet, is practically limited to a diet of curds and whey these days. The dentist yanked a few chompers the other day and, though his appetite didn't suffer, the means of entry for sustenance took a severe beating.

Mothers of Daly City Go On Polio March -- Return With $5100

CORNUCOPIA of silver pours forth from one of many sacks of money collected in the Mother's March against polio held Tuesday night. Bringing in the night's re- turns (nearly $5100) here are: Freda Farber, Sylvia Silberstein, Lillian McConnell, Eleanor Doyle, Elizabeth Kirby, Geraldine Vickers (overall chairman), Molly Foster, Elsie Prisco, and Beria Lyon.

Mothers' March Nets $5100 for Polio Fight

More than 300 Daly City moth- ers went on the march Tuesday night in the fight against polio and brought in nearly $5100 in the bat- tle against the dread disease.

Mrs. Sanford Vickers, chair- man of the Mothers' March, speak- ing at the hour-long march this week.

Local residents were asked to leave their porlights on the night of the march if they wished to contribute.

The chairman reported that nearly all homes in the area an- swered the plea, and added that contributions were generous.

Money collected here for the March of Dimes fund topped all previous records. The $5100 figure was nearly twice that of the amount collected last year, $2600.

A breakdown of collections in the various PTA districts showed: James L. Snell (Broadmoor and Garden Village, Mrs. F. F. Patti- son, chairman, $1159.15; Westlake, Mrs. Sylvia Silberstein, chairman, $1887.19; Colma, Mrs. D. F. Bea- ton, chairman, $680.30; Lagomar- sino tract, Mrs. E. Roylance, chair- man, $44.20; Woodrow Wilson and Jefferson high, Mrs. R. Williams, chairman, $397.24; Crocker, Mrs. Alvin Lyon, chairman, $289.35; Colma, Inc., Mrs. Julia Taylor, chairman, $64.40; Gen. Pershing, Mrs. F. J. Prisco, chairman, $307.50; Hillside, Mrs. F. Klassen, chairman, $113.13; Sterling tract, Mrs. V. Bovero, chairman, $156.69.

Mrs. Vickers gave her personal thanks to all who helped in the campaign and contributed.

She also gave special thanks to Joe Lewkowicz, local businessman. Lewkowicz toured the city on Sun- day and Tuesday with a loud- speaker appealing to local resi- dents to give to the cause.

DIEZ IS ARRAIGNED; PARTNER FACING BRIBERY CHARGE

George Joseph Diez, 52, of 1185 South Van Ness avenue, San Fran- cisco, one of the two alleged bookmakers operating in Daly City, was arraigned before Municipal Judge Thomas L. Bocci Monday and held to answer to book making charges.

His partner, Daniel P. McCarthy, 30, of 178 Daly avenue, San Francisco, who is out on $5000 cash bail, will enter his plea February 17. McCarthy faces not only the bookmaking charge, but also an al- leged attempt to bribe Lt. Roy Beecher of the local police force.

"C Note Apiece"

Judge Bocci was called espe- cially to Daly City Friday night to receive the complaint against McCarthy, after Beecher disclosed that McCarthy said, "Let's forget the whole thing and I'll give you a C note apiece."

Beecher and Inspector August Benassini arrested the pair at 21 Park Plaza, apt. 6, in Westlake, while they were assentedly in the act of dumping horse racing scratch sheets into an electric garbage disposal unit. The men were arrested on word from the San Francisco police department after they obtained evidence of the apartment location during a bookie raid in San Francisco.

Were Tipped Off

Apparently Diez and McCarthy had been tipped off on the coming raid and when Beecher and Benas- sini knocked on the door of the apartment they could hear the garbage disposal unit working.

Officer James Welsh, entering through a rear door, halted the two suspects as they crammed pa- pers into the disposal unit.

Beecher and Benassini then stayed in the apartment for two hours and took phone calls, al- though receiving a "heavy play" from $1, $2 and $5 bettors.

Raises Bribe Offer

Shortly after McCarthy had made the "C note" offer, he raised his original attempted bribe offer to $500 for each officer, Beecher said.

The local police lieutenant said Diez and McCarthy have records of bookmaking arrests at a cigar stand at 11 Commercial street in San Francisco.

BIG BONANZA HERE IN LICENSE FEES ON ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE

Daly City held its own in the elbow-bending department for the year 1932.

At least, according to a sum- mary issued this week by the state board of equalization.

The statement showed that alcoholic beverage license fees distributed here amounted to $13,800, fourth highest in the county.

Fees returned to San Mateo were the highest, with $40,139 going to that city.

In second spot was Redwood City, with $24,066. Fees re- turned to the county were $55,894, and the county and all its cities combined received $190,675.

Third place city was South San Francisco with fees of $16,059, while Burlingame was fifth with $11,558.

Colma received $875. Other cities of the county received: Atherton, $289; Belmont, $508; Hillsborough, $400; Menlo Park, $2028; Millbrae, $7026; San Bruno, $8316, and San Carlos $8137.

Mystery Sniper Sends Slug Through Center

Recreation Director James Mason was unduly aroused Saturday about 3 p.m. when he heard a slug go through one of the rear windows of the com- munity center.

Mason investigated and found that the ten-foot window had been pierced by a slug describ- ed as "considerably larger than (Continued on Page 2)

Jeff Graduates Rank High on Report Issued by University

Graduates of Jefferson Union high school again made an enviable record at the University of Cali- fornia.

A grade report recently issued by the university indicated that all graduates from the local high school made better than a "C" average during their first semes- ter at the university, September 1931 to January 1932.

Twenty-seven per cent of all freshmen enrolled failed to make a "C" average.

During the semester reported the following were first semester students at the University of Cali- fornia: Alice Hammond, Robert Gjorni, Lee Gorsuchi and Robert Kalinin.

The report also contained a five- year summary and this too showed Jefferson graduates to have made records well above the state average.

Legionnaires In Westlake Hold Initiation

Commander Harold Blumenthal has announced that the Westlake Post No. 535 of the American Le- gion will be holding its first ini- tiation and installation of officers tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Bernard McCaffery Legion hall, corner of Linden and Grand streets (over the Bank of America), South San Francisco.

All members and their wives are urged to attend this special meet- ing. The 40 and 8 ritualistic team of the 26th district will conduct the initiation and installation for the Post.

Friends and guests are cordially invited to attend the ceremonies. Refreshments will be served after- wards.

LOCAL SCHOOL BOND VOTE APPEARS LIGHT

One of the lightest votes in the Jefferson elementary school dis- trict was recorded at press time (1 p.m.) Thursday.

At that time only 363 persons had cast their ballot on the $840,000 bond issue.

However, Fred Schweickhardt, coordinator of curriculum for the district, said a much heavier vote was expected in the after- noon. The polls closed at 7 p.m. School district officials had pre- dicted a two or three thousand turnout of the more than 12,000 registered voters in the district.

What little voting there was went smoothly, with the excep- tion of the Woodrow Wilson pre- cinct, where cards were misfiled and one voter had to wait in line half-an-hour to cast her ballot.

Vote by districts at 1 p.m. yes- terday was: Jefferson, 35; Croc- ker, 44; Garden Village, 52; S. R. Johns residence, 21; Westlake, 80; Woodrow Wilson, 132.

SPECIAL MEETING MONDAY NIGHT ON FIRE ORDINANCE

The planning commission will hold a special meeting Monday night to discuss and make recom- mendations on present fire zoning ordinances in fire zone 1.

Request that the matter be given study was made by William Pinney, member of the commis- sion.

The commission may recom- mend that the stringent laws be eased, while still maintaining safe standards.

At Monday night's meeting the commission forwarded to the council for approval the request for a use permit by Morris E. Kosareff, 901 Hanover. He seeks to establish a business, Morris' Bike and Toy Center, at that ad- dress.

Preliminary plans of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Kenney for construc- tion of a motel and residence on the 6700 block of Mission street were rejected by the commission because specifications did not call for an adequate fire wall.

Robert Klassen, former city en- gineer, and Mario Ciampi, dis- cussed before the commission the plans of the proposed school at Lausanne avenue and Thiers street.

A LOT OF SMOKE, BUT LITTLE FIRE IN WEEK

Firemen were called to Westlake Wednesday night at 10:20 p.m. to investigate smoke coming from the Town and Country market.

The belt on the compressor that operates the "magic-eye" doors at the market had "frozen," resulting in only minor damage, according to firemen.

On Monday at 5:05 p.m. the local department was called to 209 Peoria after smoke had been re- ported coming from the residence there. Mrs. J. Aquino had left some meat cooking in the oven too long, the department reported.

Another instance of much smoke, little fire, was reported Sat- urday at 1:25 p.m. at 156-A School street, where occupants had left a cigarette burning and it had caused a chair in the living room to smolder.

Council Now Agrees On Two Patrolmen To Augment Force

Two more patrolmen may be added to the local police force, the city council decided Monday night in a caucus meeting.

Although the police commission had recommended that five additional personnel be added to the local staff, the council had earlier agreed on hiring only two more persons—a matron-stenographer and a patrolman.

Decision to hire two patrolmen was made because of the need for additional personnel during the department's vacation period, ac- cording to Dan Andersen, city ad- ministrator.

Interview Two
Monday night the council inter- viewed Philip La Bruzzo and Ger- ald Schaeffer, both of whom are eligible for the patrolman posi- tions. Louis Avanzino, also on the eligible list, waived the opportu- nity for the police job at this time.

Andersen said La Bruzzo's ap- pointment will probably be made at Monday night's council meet- ing, and will be effective as of February 16. Schaeffer may need longer to give his employer ample notice, and therefore his position probably will be made effective about the first of March, he added.

Both officers will be on tem- porary basis for six months, at which time the council may grant them permanent positions.

Status In Doubt
Meanwhile, the status of Juanita Giusti, who took over duties as matron-stenographer Monday, was still vague.

The council, at their last regu- lar meeting, made a motion that the position be created. However, some members of the council maintain that the appointment for the position has not yet been made.

Andersen contacted Mrs. Giusti, who had been a clerk in the water department, on January 29 and asked if she would take the po- sition. But Police Chief Roland Pe- trocchi said he wasn't sure if she was as yet a bonafide member of the department.

Just A Transfer

Mayor Anthony J. Gaggero said: "I don't believe any special ap- pointment is necessary. We mere- ly established the position of matron-stenographer, and Mrs. Giusti's job is just a transfer from one department to another." How- ever, Gaggero said, "I didn't know the move had been made already, but I did ask Andersen to take action as soon as possible."

Another appointment probably will have to be made to fill the vacancy in the water department, Gaggero added.

SEARCH SPREADS THRU MIDWEST

Mrs. Hildegard Garni Pelton, 32-year-old German war bride wanted for the "kiss of death" murder of her estranged husband Sun- day near Niles, may have had a temporary "hideout" in Daly City, Alameda sheriff's officers told THE RECORD today.

Captain Peter Starasimic of the Alameda office said that a short search for her apartment here was given up temporarily after officers were sure that she had left the Bay Area.

SWEENEY HONORED AT BANQUET HERE

Nearly 200 persons turned up at the Lake Merced Golf and Country club last Thursday night to fe- tere retiring Judge William Sweeney at a testimonial banquet.

Councilman Paul Green acted as toastmaster, introducing various speakers.

Arthur J. Bodien, who, with Sweeney, was one of the first resi- dents here, spoke of his and the honored guest's experiences through the years.

Sweeney received a golf bag from those present and the police department presented him with a clock.

HANNAH LEAVES FOR CONFAB IN NEW YORK

Stanford Hannah, principal at Jefferson Union high school, leaves tomorrow by plane for New York City, where he will attend the sixth annual United Nations insti- tute which convenes February 12, 13 and 14.

Hannah will be among educa- tional leaders from this country and Canada who will participate in the activities.

Sponsored jointly by the United Nations' department of infor- mation and NYU's school of educa- tion, the institute will be held at United Nations headquarters and at New York University's La Guardia hall.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will be among the institute's major speak- ers. Other speakers and discus- sion leaders will include String- fellow Barr, president of the foun- dation for world government; Ben- jamin Cohen, assistant secretary general of the United Nations; and Dr. David D. Henry, vice cancel- lor of NYU.

Highlight of the institute will be a Lincoln's Birthday dinner in the delegates' dining room of the United Nations building which will follow sessions and conferences on February 12.

Hannah plans to return here on February 23.

May Have Worked Here
She also may have worked in Daly City as a waitress prior to the reconciliation attempt which ended in the death of William Thomas Pelton, King said.

"There is little value of further searching in Daly City now, other than finding out her prior move- ments," King pointed out.

"However," he added, "we're working every possible angle and something may be turned up in Daly City later on."

Local Police Chief Roland Petrocchi said his department had not been informed of Mrs. Pel- ton's connections here.

According to reports given be- tween here and the midwest, Mrs. Pelton may have reached Texas.

Captain Dick Condon of the Alameda office signed a warrant in Centerville-Niles justice of the peace court yesterday morning charging Mrs. Pelton with the murder of her husband.

Nine Wounds
The body of Pelton, 30-year- old army veteran, was found in a sports car with nine pistol shots (Continued on Page 2)

Will Establish Maintenance Post for Parks

The position of maintenance man for Daly City's park and playgrounds will be created at the city council meeting Monday, ac- cording to City Administrator Dan Andersen.

The job will pay $280.90 a month, Andersen said. The main- tenance man will also work on a part-time basis at the community center until the time when the center is complete. At that time, Andersen explained, a full time man will be needed for the center.

Bids for gymnasium and fire equipment will be opened Monday and the council will call for bids for loan to be used in landscaping the community center site.

SF Annexation Would Take $50,000 From Local Tax Revenues

County Tax Collector Ralph A. MacArthur said this week that Daly City would lose almost $50,000 in taxes should Westlake be- come part of San Francisco.

The figure was based on West- lake's assessed property valuation of $4,814,585.

San Francisco has its sights set on annexing Westlake and Broad- moor, which have within their limits two large shopping centers, the Lake Merced Golf and Coun- try club, 1300 homes, 840 apart- ments and numerous small busi- nesses.

Schools Would Go
Three local elementary schools would also be moved outside of San Mateo county if San Fran- cisco's move became a reality. They are: Westlake elementary school, Garden Village elementary school and the Ben Franklin ele- mentary school, both in Broad- moor. A second high school, planned near the Skyline by the Jefferson high school district, would also be incorporated in San Francisco county.

Reactions Mixed
Mixed reactions to San Fran- cisco's acquisitive plan have been expressed.

Daly City Mayor Anthony J. Gaggero said, "We've known what they wanted for many years. Mayor Robinson has come out and talked peace, cooperation and con- solidation. I'm sure the people of Daly City, more particularly Westlake, would never vote for such a move."

Broadmoor and Westlake have made overtures to the San Fran- cisco board of supervisors for annexation by San Francisco.

Are They Kidding
Daly City Administrator Dan Andersen said "Who do they think they're kidding?" when asked about the feasibility of the San Francisco plan. "Can they really be serious in thinking we're going to let Westlake become part of San Francisco?" he added.

James McKay, president of the Broadmoor Property Owners' as- sociation, said he was sure San Francisco is serious. He indicated the Broadmoor residents are keep- ing a close watch over the situa- tion.

Spring blossoms scent the air of every florist's shop these days, but not many of them are local. TANFORAN FLORISTS, Carol and George Bignotti, tell me that their gorgeous displays of stalks come from San Diego in refrigerated cars. The heavily budded gladioli are flown from Florida and flowering quince (the kind that lasts five to six days in your home), and daffodils from Oregon—Bird of Paradise blooms, so perfect for floral arrangements, come from Hawaii.

One of the loveliest sights in this new shop, however, are those heavenly blue Dutch Iris from the Colma nursery of Carol's uncle—Mr. Ottoboni!

TANFORAN FLORIST is located at 6175 Mission St., Call Plaza 5-4017. Delivery is free and your thirty day charge account is welcomed!

Bill Degliantoni, owner of the AMERICAN ROOF MAINTENANCE CO., with fifteen years experience in the roofing business, backs up this tip to home owners: Says Bill, "This time of year is definitely not the time for re-roofing your home! If your roof starts to leak, have a rush repair job done immediately, but wait until April or May for the big job."

Bill's reason being that NO roofer can do more than TALK a really top-notch job on a wet roof—and they take time to dry properly.

AMERICAN ROOF MAINTENANCE CO. is located at 32 Shakespeare St., Call Plaza 5-3888—and all work done by them is unconditionally guaranteed.

Mrs. W. H. Young, of 416 Templeton Ave., is responsible for our introduction to those unbelievably wonderful HELENA RUBINSTEIN "Color-tone" shampoos—and we are deeply grateful! (Shampoo comes in four different "tones"—Blonde, Brunette, Silver and Red-head, and is priced at just $1.25 per large bottle.)

These shampoos rather like lightning to leave your hair squeaking clean, but they also contain a special conditioning agent which leaves your hair soft and manageable without being "limp." (This may be due to the fact that HELENA RUBINSTEIN shampoos are made from a pure soap base which leave the natural hair oils undisturbed). Their color in the bottle is not a dye or tint, HELENA RUBINSTEIN Color-tone merely accents the natural color of your hair or your child's... Yes, this works wonders on children's hair.

HELENA RUBINSTEIN Color-tone shampoo and other cosmetics may be purchased in the following Daly City stores: CROWN DRUG, at 355 S. Mayfair in Westlake, Call Plaza 5-8200; MCGRAW BROS. PHARMACY, at 6300 Mission St., Call Plaza 5-6226; BROADMOOR PHARMACY, at 2388 Junipero Serra Blvd., call Plaza 5-5633!

Mrs. Poulsen, owner of YVONNE'S casual shop at 6207 Mission St., was disappointed at not being able to show us the full line of Spring cottons she is expecting daily, but for all her talk of February being an "in-between" time for fashions—the racks in her chic red and white store were loaded with lovely blouses, skirts and sweaters. Some of these items are still priced to clear, but hurry, hurry, because these are real bargains!

Some of these wonder buys are the following: Lamb's wool cardigan sweaters, by Gantner, which formerly sold for $12.95 are now only $8.95! These are full fashioned and lovely! Then there are the perma pleated, wool worsted skirts in plain and plaid—reduced from $9.95 to $6.95 and last, but not least, long sleeved, french cuffed blouses in white crinkle nylon for only $2.98! Visit YVONNE'S today. You'll love the store's decor, its stock—and feel you have made a new friend in Mrs. Poulsen.

SHAW'S CANDY STORE, in the Broadmoor-King's Market shopping center, looks like a giant Valentine these days with its heartening array of satin topped gift boxes—heart Lollypops and general Valentine decorations. Prices for these, the best Valentine candies available, range from 10c to $10. Drop into SHAW'S soon and make a selection for the lady in your heart.

Vera Witke, cute saleslady in SHAW'S, is an ardent bowler in her hours away from SHAW'S and she would like to invite other followers of the sport to the First Annual Joint Benefit Dance (given by the S.F.W.B.A. & S.F.B.A.—bowling assn.) to be held February 7, in California Hall—downstairs—at Polk and Turk Sts. in San Francisco! Admission, $1.00—lots of fun and lots of good dancing to the music of Don Armando! Yes, Vera has tickets—or buy at door!

Newest store to open in WESTLAKE is the WESTLAKE FASHIONS salon, owned by Jeanne Goldhirsch and managed by Blanche Lagomarsino. This shop is unique in the area since it features fashions by LANZ—up to now available only in San Francisco or San Mateo. Due to space restrictions, you may not find EVERY LANZ style you desire, but don't let that discourage you! That style will be ordered for you. LANZ play shoes will also be on sale here—to blend with that LANZ dress like sugar does with cream... Be sure to visit "WESTLAKE FASHIONS" in the very near future—the pleasure will be mutual!

Attention! Last minute flash... not in the pan, either, says that SERRA FURNITURE, at 2899 Junipero Serra boulevard, will hold open house this Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Two reasons for the celebration are TOM SEIVERT and SHELLEY SMITH (former managers of the furniture and appliance department at Gamble's Western Auto), who have joined the sales and management force of Serra Furniture owner Joe Figueras. Other reasons? New shipments of fine furniture and appliances for your approval.

SOFT VARIATIONS BEGET A "NEW FEMININE LOOK" IN PARIS-INSPIRED FASHIONS FOR SPRING

Soft and romantic variations—previewed here in an excitingly feminine duet of Betty Rose suits—dramatize Paris-inspired overtones of the theme melody for 1953 spring fashion.

This spring, fashionable suits and coats achieve a soft and naturally feminine look. Expect it in all features which contribute to style. The slender silhouette. Pastels in color. Subdued surface interest in fabric. Pretty details.

Milady will discover thrilling extras, too. The two Betty Rose suits shown here, for example, are Milium lined. This metal-insulated iridescent rayon taffeta lining is tailored into these budget-priced spring suits to provide the extra which labels them "Transeason"—season-spanning suits, impervious to the fickle springtime weather vane. The impression: A slim, flattering, bulkless and elegant look. The advantages: Lightweight warmth on chilly days; cooler comfort when the sun shines.

The flattering and feminine allure of the suit on the left is emphasized in each fashion facet of the garment: The longer skirt; the "pretty" details; sculptured curves in virgin wool boucle twist; popular spring colors of blue, pink, champagne and lime.

Again, in the suit on the right, the style-conscious shopper will note simple and graceful detail which accents all that is easy and natural, all that is feminine. Again the long skirt to emphasize the slender silhouette. There also is elegance in the fabric: Kanmak's virgin wool KaMaTwist. Popular colors are blue, spice, gold and pink.

Speaker Says Vet Aid Must Increase

Aid to disabled war veterans and their families will demand increasing efforts from the women of the American Legion Auxiliary during the coming year, Mrs. Leslie Hansen, rehabilitation chairman of the Daly City unit, said today as the Auxiliary continued enrollment of its membership for 1953.

The Korean War, the reduction in funds for the Veterans Administration, and the growing number of world war veterans becoming disabled are combining to bring heavier responsibility to the Auxiliary in its rehabilitation program, Mrs. Hansen stated. She said:

"Men disabled in the Korean conflict are beginning to appear in numbers in the Veterans Administration hospitals at a time when the Veterans Administration is endeavoring to operate on reduced funds, and when the number of veterans of the two world wars seeking admission is beyond the hospital's capacity. The Auxiliary is supporting the American Legion's protest against the cuts in funds made in 1952, and with the Legion is calling on Congress to appropriate sufficient funds for adequate care of the disabled.

"We of the Auxiliary have worked constantly with the disabled veterans for many years and we know the distress that is caused when delayed results of war service take a veteran from the ranks of the earners and send him to a hospital for a long stay. Our task is to make sure that his family has the necessities of life, to encourage him and help him as much as we can through our volunteer workers in the hospitals, and to be ready to give him a helping hand when he returns to his home.

"Mutual helpfulness is one of the first principles of the American Legion, and our Auxiliary devotes much of its time and means to helping the Legion help its unfortunate comrades. Every member who enrolls in the Auxiliary for 1953 will help us carry forward this work of mercy and relief for those who have served America."

Crowded Hillcrest Conditions Topic At Social Council

Crowded conditions at Hillcrest, the county's juvenile hall, was the subject of discussion at a meeting of the Family and Child Care Division of the Council of Social Agencies, Red Feather service at the Chukker last week.

"In January, a new high of fifty-seven children were housed in quarters designed for twenty-two," said Loren Beckley, superintendent of the home, in describing the crowded state to representatives of over thirty agencies interested in family and child care problems. Mr. Beckley urged the agencies to visit Hillcrest and to invite speakers on the problems facing the detention home in order that they may fully understand its functions and responsibilities.

Mr. John S. Cowgill, chief probation officer, emphasized the need for being completely informed on the situation that exists and expressed confidence that the public will support a bond issue for the enlarged hall when they understand and are aware of conditions.

Special guests at the meeting included Police Chief George Potter of Menlo Park, Chief Leroy A. Hubbard of Atherton and Lt. Russell Cunningham of San Bruno.

Quarrelled Violently

Neighbors told police Mr. and Mrs. Felton, who had been living at 177 Victory avenue, South San Francisco, had quarrelled "violently" at 5:15 p.m. Sunday as the husband was loading three suitcases containing Mrs. Felton's belongings into the convertible English sports car parked in front of their apartment.

Officers believe that Mrs. Felton came to her Daly City hideaway on the many occasions when she left her husband in past weeks.

Identification of the nine-shot target pistol which was used to kill Pelton is still in the process, according to Starasimic.

We Must Have Misunderstood

We were given to understand, with the reorganization of the local council, that council meetings would no longer be closed to the public.

But to date we can perceive no change in the council's conducting of its business.

Matters continue to be decided in caucus regularly every other week.

The only machinations of government the public observes, in the few instances when the citizens attend the cut and dried council meetings, are the routine formalities of passing on resolutions, approving payments and commending various and sundry projects.

The people are still only seeing a show put on for their benefit every other week, while the dress rehearsals fall on alternate weeks.

A Harbinger of Success

The overwhelming success of Tuesday's Mothers' March has dispelled our belief that Daly City was doomed to failure in any charitable project.

The collection of more than $5000 in the period of one hour was a tribute to the generosity of the givers and to the unselfish service of the more than 300 mothers who dispatched the drive with efficiency.

The combination of these two factors resulted in a total collection this year of nearly twice last year's figure.

We tip our editorial hat to all those who made this possible.

"The Scout Family" in Daly City

February 7 through 14 marks National Boy Scout week in this community and throughout the land.

This year emphasis of the Boy Scout theme is "The Scout Family." We must, first of all, extend our applause to scouting and all it stands for in this special week set aside as a tribute to scouting's year-round benefit to youth and to the nation.

But "The Scout Family" brings sharply into mind the fact that the scout and cub organizations in Daly City are sorely lacking in the fundamental asset—leadership.

This is not the fault of the parents. Many are the adults in Daly City who offer wholeheartedly their time to scouting, but they can't offer experience in training—they just don't have it.

We recommend that a school for "adult scouts" be set up. A school that would give to the adults the technical experience needed.

This could be passed on to the cubs and scouts, tempered with the adults' mature judgment and faculty for coordination of activities.

We salute the scout world, not only in this week dedicated to them, but in the future—which we hope will bring more and better activities throughout the land and, especially, here at home.

County Red Cross Officers Are Installed

THREE OF THE SIX officers unanimously elected by the board of directors of the San Mateo county chapter, American Red Cross, are pictured as they took office. Left to right, they are Miss Elizabeth Mack, 2nd vice-chairman; Daniel G. Minto, chapter chairman, and Norma Corlett, 1st vice-chairman. Officers will serve the chapter during 1953.

RETARDED CHILDREN'S GROUP WILL BEGIN FUND CAMPAIGN

The National Association for Retarded Children will have its first National Fund Raising Campaign Feb. 8 thru Feb. 15. A part of the proceeds will be used to establish a National Headquarters to coordinate the efforts of this fast growing organization. Started in May 1950, at Columbus, Ohio, a small group of interested parents has grown to 150 parents groups throughout the nation, with over 5,000 participating parents.

Publicity through the cooperative press, radio, TV and leading magazines, has created a veritable deluge of inquiries from parents that has overwhelmed the volunteer workers who are trying to conduct the National business. This has made necessary the establishing of headquarters in order to bring help to these thousands of parents and their mentally handicapped children.

The overall purpose of NARC is to champion the cause of mentally handicapped children everywhere. Leading medical doctors, educators and psychiatrists are devoting their combined efforts in behalf of the mentally handicapped. Doctor Grover Powers, of Yale University, will direct a special NARC research board this summer, consisting of 25 leaders in their professions from all parts of the nation. It has been estimated by medical research that approximately 2% of the total population is mentally retarded. Mental deficiency, like physical deficiency, can and does happen to children of families in all walks of life. There is urgent need for public educational facilities to care for these handicapped, and need for research to learn the causes of and preventive measures for mental retardation. A few communities have private Day Care Centers for the young, and Sheltered Work Shops for the older children. Plans are made for educational and training facilities for those capable of learning. Medical clinics, research laboratories, and recreational facilities are planned so these "Children Limited" can receive education and training to the limit of their ability.

Mr. Wendell E. Morris, president of the Mt. Pleasant Parents, is chairman of the National Fund Raising Committee. Contributions for the National Association may be sent to him at 66 Maywood, Pleasant Ridge, Michigan.

County Red Cross Names Leaders For Coming Year

Unanimously elected at an organizational meeting this week of the Board of Directors of the San Mateo county chapter, American Red Cross, to serve as officers for 1953 were Daniel G. Minto, Minto Motors, chapter chairman for a third term; Norman Corlett, manager of Borden's, 1st vice-president for a second term; Miss Elizabeth Mack, an active volunteer for fourteen years, 2nd vice-chairman; Mrs. Lorraine J. Scott, a chapter volunteer for over thirty-five years, secretary for a second term; Victory Gile, manager of the San Mateo branch of Bank of America, treasurer; and Glenn Stern, manager of the Burlingame branch of American Trust Company, assistant treasurer. Thirty of the thirty-six board members were present and voted. Six new board members were introduced and welcomed by Minto. The next meeting was set for the second Monday in March.

Blood Procurement

During service reports for December, a lengthy discussion of blood procurement took place. Beginning Feb. 1st, San Mateo county's quota of 500 pints per month, collected jointly by San Mateo county and Sequoia Red Cross chapters, will be increased to 800 pints. This increase is necessary, it was stated, because the National Red Cross has been designated by the government as official procurement agency for blood to be processed into GAMMA GLOBULIN for use in preventing polio. This is in addition to collecting blood for the Armed Forces and National Defense.

In accepting the new responsibility, National Red Cross has had to increase its national quota for the 1953 fund campaign from 86 million dollars to 93 million dollars. It was pointed out that Red Cross is the logical agency to perform this task, as it is already set up to collect blood. Various means of stepping up blood donations were discussed.

Resolution Passed

A resolution was passed making it possible to name a board member who has served 20 years or more to the position of special advisor. Walter Martin who has been an active volunteer for over 35 years, was the first to be accorded this honor.

Miss Mack announced an Orientation Class for new board members and others will be given on the evenings of Feb. 9 and 10 at the chapter house in Burlingame.

Minto requested all service chairmen to continue in their present posts until he can meet with them and discuss reappointment or new appointments to the volunteer

Woman Lauds Idea for Center Function

Dear Editor:

I noticed your write up in regard to Mrs. Talbot's suggestion that Daly City have a "box lunch" get-together as a means of raising funds for the community center. It strikes me that this is a good, clean idea, and if carried out would be a success socially and financially.

Will there be more about this in your paper?

AROUND THE AREA

Fifteen Injured

One of the winter season's heaviest fogs snarled traffic on San Mateo county roads and highways Sunday and was blamed for more than a dozen automobile accidents.

Two separate accidents on San Mateo bridge, involving seven vehicles, brought traffic on the span to a halt for more than two hours Sunday afternoon and caused a traffic jam on Bayshore highway.

Own Sweet Time

San Bruno's City Councilman William Maurer last week refused to reveal his charges against City Manager Matt Slankard.

As a result the long-time city official may soon face a recall move.

In an hour-long session in the city hall, speaker after speaker rapped Maurer, but the councilman refused to state his case against the manager.

"I'll do that in my own sweet time," he announced at the end of the meeting. He later told reporters that his charges, and in writing, will be ready "as soon as possible"—maybe by the February 11 regular meeting, he added.

One of the many members of the audience opposing Maurer, said, "If he doesn't resign, we can recall him from office."

"Never Any Politics"

Police Commissioner Wallace Benson of Belmont, presenting his side of the current Belmont police controversy, told the Belmont Home Owners' association last week that "there has never been any politics played between me and the police department."

In discussing the charges of "interference" and "political pressure" which grew out of a recent personnel board meeting in which an ousted officer alleged Benson was usurping the functions of the department, Benson brought before the audience the current police budget.

Protection from Father

Freddie Wilkins has been committed to Log Cabin juvenile ranch for the January 15 rifle wounding of his father, Caleb.

Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton said he was sending the 15-year-old Pedro Point boy to the detention home for 24-hour supervision and for protection from his father. The boy earlier told of the manner in which his father had abused him and his family, leading to the shooting which wounded him.

City Is Innocent

A jury last week absolved the city of San Mateo of any blame in the drowning of a 4-year-old boy two years ago.

A jury of eight women and four men, after a four-day trial, decided that Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Sanders, 411 El Camino Real, San Mateo, are not entitled to damages from the city for the drowning of their only child, Stephen. They had sued for $100,000.

The jury was 10-2 for the defendant, one vote more than the two-thirds majority. The jury deliberated for an hour.

Stephen Sanders was drowned January 18, 1951, when he fell into a drainage ditch in San Mateo Village and was swept 900 feet through a culvert.

Workable Rapid Transit?

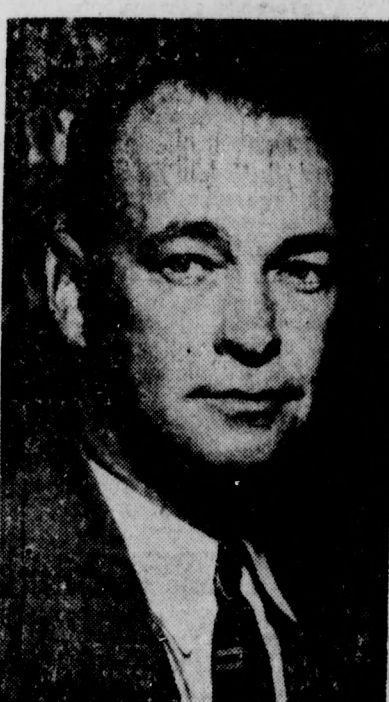

If the San Francisco bay area is to have a workable mass rapid transit system, it must start with an area-wide master plan.

Means of obtaining a master plan were outlined last week by a quartet of speakers at a meeting of the Tri-county planning council in Redwood City.

San Francisco Supervisor Marvin E. Lewis, chairman of the bay area rapid transit commission, told the group of 98 planners at the meeting that the first step is for the nine bay area counties to contribute their share of money for a rapid transit study.

Paul Bacon Named Chairman for 1953 Fund Campaign in San Mateo County

Paul Bacon, president of Coca-Cola Bottling company of San Mateo, has been named chairman of the 1953 fund campaign, according to Dan Minto, chairman of the San Mateo county American Red Cross. Bacon, who resides at 1401 Easton avenue, San Carlos, is married, has three daughters, twelve, nine and two. He has been a peninsula resident for the past four years. Bacon also is president of Peninsula Beverage Co., a member of the board of directors of Red Cross, Burlingame Rotary club, Burlingame Chamber of Commerce, and Manufacturers' Association of San Mateo county where he serves as chairman of the membership committee.

Bacon said today, "I want to stress the fact that the San Mateo county chapter, American Red Cross, had no part in the United Crusade held last fall in San Francisco, and receives no funds collected at that time. We must raise our own monies to carry on services to local residents and to participate in National Red Cross projects of the seven million dollars which National Red Cross has had to add to its quota of eighty six million, in order to carry out the government assignment of procuring additional blood for GAMMA GLOBULIN, to be used in prevention of paralysis from Polio. I urge each individual, firm and industry to bear this in mind and give a little more this year, when they are asked to contribute to the 1953 Red Cross Fund."

Today Bacon announced his vice-chairmen appointments. They are: Ray Barnett of Radio KEAR, district relations; Miss Evelyn Barron, accounting; Mrs. Henry Bostwick, Jr., residential arrangements; Mrs. Barney Bristow, quotas and analysis; Mrs. Grant Donaldson, supplies; and Mrs. Thomas Ford, display.

Bacon stated his roster of chairmen for the eight districts embraced in the chapter area is complete and will be announced within the week.

Phone Employees Thank Police For Aid in Project

(Ed. note: The following letter was received this week by the city council.)

Gentlemen:

On December 24, Telephone company employees at the 333 Grant avenue office in San Francisco made their annual distribution of Christmas food baskets to needy families in San Francisco and near-by communities.

In order to expedite the delivery of the large number of food baskets involved we solicited the assistance of your police department. Lieutenant Beecher was very cooperative in this matter. Officer John Walsh escorted our vehicles and was most helpful in assisting us to locate the recipients of the Christmas baskets.

On behalf of the members of the Telephone Employees' club sponsoring this annual activity, I wish to thank the above named officers of the police force for their wholehearted cooperation and assistance.

Yours truly,

Frank A. Bach

One of Six Drivers Halted Last Year, State Patrol Says

California Highway Patrolmen halted about one out of every six drivers last year as the Patrol's enforcement activities reached an all-time high.

A total of 681,121 citations and written warnings were handed out, with citations alone running 439,324, a 21 per cent increase over 1951.

Preliminary analysis of enforcement figures indicates that speeding, the state's No. 1 traffic killer, accounted for one-third of all arrests.

Officers chalked up 25,046,071 miles during the year, an average of more than 20,000 miles for each of the Patrol's 1200 traffic officers. Trucks figured prominently in the enforcement picture. Officers made 751,957 commercial vehicle inspections which resulted in 77,737 arrests and the writing of 53,702 warnings.

The Patrol also disclosed that more than 9500 arrests for drunk driving were made in 1952, a 13 per cent hike over 1951.

Boy Scout Week Is Theme of Display At Local Library

National Boy Scout week is the theme of a craft display set up at Daly City's library.

Constructed by the Daly City Cub Scout Pack 62, the display is centered around a replica of the famous Liberty Bell, carrying out the Boy Scout theme of "Forward on Liberty's Team." The Scouts have worked out and developed this theme during the past three years.

The many activities young scouts participate in—basket weaving, braiding cords, playing games, making scrapbooks, helping other children, acting out skits, plaster casting, woodburning, cooking, and many others—are mentioned in the display.

The display also represents Scout progress in the six A's, attendance, appearance, activities, advancement, attitude and action.

RIDGELY CUMMINGS REPORTS:

...from HOLLYWOOD

PROMISING YOUNG HOODLUM

For the benefit of those who are coming in late, this is a continuation of some comments on the life and works of one of the most romantic and at the same time tragic figures in American literary history.

Not to prolong the suspense unduly, the name of this writer is Jack London. At the time of which I write he was a strident young giant beating his way noisily toward recognition, though not yet emerging over the edge of the horizon of the world of letters.

How It Happened

In my last essay on this subject I explained how it happened that I was saddled with the chore of writing an article about our hero and carried him through his childhood days as a newsboy, bowling alley pin-setter and sweeper-out of saloons.

I left Jack London, aged 16, about to become an oyster pirate. Now the time has come to resume the tale. But first a word about my own literary philosophy. I don't think much of those writers who concoct books from the pages of other books. It seems to me to be a waste of time. Why not read the originals instead of the watered down versions?

Paths Never Crossed

Anyone who wants the bare facts of London's life can find them in the library. That's where I got those I am about to set forth. I have not first hand information to offer because he bumped himself off shortly after I made my appearance on the scene and our paths never crossed.

It's true that when I ran away to sea as a youth I was shipmates with men who boasted about their friendship with the fabulously wealthy sailor.

And when during the late lamented depression I had occasion to make a box-car tour of the country, I met weather-beaten tramps who bragged that they had shared a jungle stew with the hobo-novelist.

But I don't recall that shellback or bum had any facts to contribute about Jack London's life that he had not already revealed in his autobiographical writings. What these contemporaries did was to add to the legend by their pride and admiration, their head-shaking and reminiscent chuckles, their laconic and envious references to his capacity as a drinker, his prowess as a seducer, his ferocity as a fighter.

The Great Egotist

None of them admired Jack London half so much as he admired himself. For the young disciple of Nietzsche was one of the great egotists of all time.

With that as an introduction, I will now toss in a few facts.

When he finished the eighth grade in school, London went to work in a cannery at 10c an hour. That was more than sixty years ago. The eight hour day was still an optimistic dream, a shining goal described by the bruised lips of labor organizers, a hoarse growl in the throats of workers who died wornout aged 45.

Jack worked 10, 12 and 14 hours a day and hated it. But not until he was almost 16 did he see an avenue of escape. Then he heard about a boat for sale for $300.

$300 From Mammy

Jack borrowed the $300 from Jennie Prentiss, the negro mammy who had nursed him during the interval between his birth and his mother's marriage.

With the borrowed money he bought the Razzle Dazzle, a sloop, from an Oakland waterfront character named French Frank. The boat put him in business as an oyster pirate.

This was a lucrative profession in California during the 1890's. Oysters were a monopoly and therefore the prices were high.

The railroad octopus, with some notable exceptions like Hiram Johnson, and bought and sold judges and politicians, had been given nearly half the state as a reward for stretching thin lines of steel track across the rich wilderness. Railroad loot included the tidelands around San Francisco Bay, where the oysters were grown.

Raiders at Night

A few big companies had acquired title to the mudflats from the railroads and they kept the oyster beds at night, fighting the fish patrol and private watchmen.

The sold their burlap bags full of booty on the open market, probably a little cheaper than the monopoly did, though my sources are not very explicit on this point.

In fact this whole period is treated rather scantily and when I have time I must go back and reread London's "Tales of the Fish Patrol" to get the real lowdown. I read that book and also "The Call of the Wild" in school, but books which are forced upon one as valuable educational experiences often are completely wasted. Because they are read as a duty they are not enjoyed at the time.

And afterward one seldom goes back to the because around them still lingers the faintly repellent aura of compulsion.

As Much In A Day

From what is available in my rather hurried examination of this period, I gather that Jack London earned as much in a day as he previously had in a month of hard labor in the cannery, that he soon paid off the loan to Jennie, that he helped out his needy family but that most of his profits he spent in waterfront saloons, building up quite a reputation for himself as a thirsty young drunk.

During one of his spree his boat caught on fire. What wasn't burned was raided by other pirates.

Jack was on the skids again. For a few months he had enjoyed the title of Prince of the Oyster Pirates and pleased in the doubtful benefits of companionship with a mature woman of blatant charms and dubious virtue, known as Queen of the O. P.'s. Now he found himself demoted to the ranks.

He loafed around the front and worked as a partner on other boats but eventually, for reasons that still are not clear to me, he switched side and became a deputy patrolman for the Fish Patrol.

Wonderful Rationalist
Now his job was to hunt down his former confederates and I must look into his autobiographical writings to see how he rationalizes that turn of events. For one thing London excelled at and that was rationalization, thinking up logical excuses for all the wild and crazy things he did.

Leaving the fish patrol while he was still 16, he became a hobo, riding the rods over the hump of the Sierra Nevada to see what it was like.

Back in Oakland he joined a gang of hoodlums, brawled and drank, nearly died of alcoholism, failed in an attempt at suicide, and unwittingly gathered vivid material for his future book, "John Barleycorn."

Early in 1893, a few days after he turned 17, Jack shipped aboard a sailing ship, the Sophia Sunderland. This was a sealer and Jack signed on as a boat-puller, his job being to row a small boat for a harpooner.

Sobered Him Up

His seven months in the Bering Sea, with brief drunken interludes ashore in Japan, sobered him up and gave him a new perspective.

Seeing the deadened career that faced the seamen of that day, he determined to escape by acquiring an education. On this trip he also picked up the colorful background information for one of his best novels, "The Sea Wolf."

All this seems like a long time ago and of course it was. But it is not completely removed from our own day. It seems longer because Jack London has been dead so many years.

Actually, considering his strong constitution and tremendous vitality, London could still be alive today if he had happened to added to his complex makeup a little more caution and a little more luck.

Maugham Still Strong

Somerset Maugham, who was born two years before Jack, is still going strong. And when London at 16 was learning the ropes as an oyster pirate, Maugham at 18 had just enrolled in the Medical School of St. Thomas's Hospital.

When London at 17 was slaughtering seals and investigating the inside of jails, Maugham was investigating the insides of human cadavers and jotting down likely similes in his writer's notebook.

Well, this time I've covered only one year in the life of our hero and just about exhausted the available space. At this rate, writing an essay for each year, it looks like I will have to devote 23 more columns to this subject. And this I do not plan to do. But there will be another one on the same subject when the spirit moves.

SHED LIGHT ON

"MOTHBALL" FLEET

The "head lamps" long associated with miners to light their way below the earth's surface are now being used as a source of light by the maintenance crews aboard the ships of the United States reserve merchant fleet. These lamps, powered by small nickel-iron-alkaline batteries, allow the crew members to have their hands free at all times and provide better illumination with equal fire protection to that of an approved vaporproof extension light.

CORROSION-RESISTANT

The nickel-chromium alloys have a high resistance to corrosion. Inconel, for instance, containing 80 per cent nickel, 14 per cent chromium and 6 per cent iron, is particularly useful in the construction of food processing and other equipment where freedom from contamination of the products is essential.

CONGRESSMAN YOUNGER REPORTS ON ACTIVITIES IN WASHINGTON

By Art Younger

Washington, D. C.—Proficiency as a journalist has not been one of my talents. However, in view of the three thousand miles separating me from you of San Mateo county who sent me to Washington, I feel that it is due you that I report periodically. I am deeply indebted to the newspapers carrying this report and hope that it will prove advantageous to them and to their readers.

The opening of Congress, January 3rd, was very much like the reopening of any college after summer vacation. The greetings were just as boisterous and enthusiastic, the back-slapping just as hearty. But, instead of the convening Congressmen asking one another what they had been doing all summer, they asked, "How did you do? By what majority did you win?" The losers were not subjected to the question. They aren't here any more.

Organized Swiftly

The new Congress was organized swiftly. The officers of the House were nominated and elected with little time wasted. It was interesting to note that although they knew it amounted to little more than window dressing, members of the Minority Party nominated their candidates for the various offices anyway, and the ensuing voting was carried out strictly according to party lines.

Once the House was organized, the first item on the agenda was to assign members to the various committees. On the Republican side this is the responsibility of a committee on committees comprising one Congressman from each state. John Phillips from the 29th District represented California.

In A Dilemma

Because of the thin Republican majority in the House, (221 out of 435 and with the Speaker and Majority Leader not available for committee assignment, reducing the number to 219) the Committee on Committees found itself in the dilemma of having 237 assignments which were necessary to control the committee action, yet only 219 Republican members available. To resolve this difficulty the House, by unanimous consent, changed the existing House rule which limits to one committee those members assigned to so-called "Exclusive Committees" and allowed them one additional committee assignment. Hence it was possible to place a majority of Republicans on each House committee.

My committee assignment is Interstate and Foreign Commerce. It is a very old committee historically, the second to be organized by the Congress in 1795. It is a most interesting and instructive assignment for a freshman Congressman. Encompassing an extremely wide field of legislation, it will be concerned with not only all forms of interstate commerce, land, sea, and air, including the Civil Aeronautics Board, but interstate communications as well including television, radio, etc. Also under the committee's jurisdiction is all legislation affecting the Securities Exchange Commission and public health. It seems apparent that much that will come before us will vitally affect the 9th District. For this reason, especially, I am delighted with the assignment.

The inauguration and attendant activities held the spotlight here until after the 20th when the hordes of visitors finally departed. It was unfortunate that we had a mild flu epidemic which laid low many of the visitors as well as local inhabitants.

Californians Gather

On the 15th the California State Society entertained at dinner at the Statler in honor of the Vice-President-elect and the California Congressional delegation. Miss Jean McLaughlin and Miss Joyce Webster of the office joined Mrs. Younger and me at our table, and it was surprising to most of us to find there were some 650 Californians in attendance.

The Inaugural Ceremony was deeply moving as you who have television found out. To enjoy the Festival, Parade, and Ball, one should have been endowed with the best qualities of a bargain sale habitue and a night owl. We found we were not so endowed.

Mrs. Younger has become a member of the Congressional Club which she is enjoying very much. Its membership is comprised of the wives of members of both houses of Congress. It boasts a very pleasant clubhouse where members and their guests gather each Friday afternoon for lectures followed by a tea hour. There are other activities and social events sponsored by the club which we hope to know more about later.

Greets Travelers

Since opening my office I have been delighted to greet the following travelers from home. From San Mateo: Mrs. Paul K. Webster, Jane Taylor, Donald C. Jamison, Mrs. Joseph Pausner, and D. A. Raybould. From Burlingame: L. Herbert Harris and Capt. C. H. May. Others included William A. Bockel Jr., San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jason, Redwood City; John Robert Begg, Stanford; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, Woodside; and Floyd K. Dowenton, Atherton.

So much for this, my first sally into journalism. Two weeks from now, when the House activities should be well under way, I hope to have more to relate on legislation.

SHOCK-RESISTANT

RELIEF FOR UPPER SUFFERERS

Sufferers of uppers that refuse to remain put may find some comfort in the recent announcement of a new method of keeping false teeth firmly in place. It has been demonstrated that tiny, powerful, platinum-cobalt alloy magnets, embedded within the bones of the mouth cavity by oral surgery, act on similar magnets in the denture and hold dental plates securely.

With nearly 20,000 species, orchids probably form the largest plant family.

The mighty upheaval blasted 400,000 tons of nickel-copper ore and required 128,000 pounds of powder. In preparation, more than 2,000 blastholes, totaling over 31 miles, were drilled in the ore for the setting of the charges.

Royal Welcome Is Given to Visitors By The Cypress Circle

Deputy Janet Fellman with her successful last minute advising and coaching had a full corps of officers on hand to extend Sister Louise Escobes, grand arch druidess, and seventeen members of her official family a royal welcome to Cypress Circle on Wednesday evening, January 28, at the Colma community center hall in Colma.

Grand trustee of the grand grove, Albert Garibaldi, also a member of Cypress Circle, and Junior Past Noble Grand Arch Peter J. Cresci were among the many men present.

The theme of the evening was "Orchids." Over 30 rare species was presented to Cypress Circle by Miller Jensen, husband of member Hortense Jensen, whose hobby it is to raise orchids of all varieties.

All the officers, pianist and members of the escort team were bedecked with large double orchids, while Grand Arch Druidess Louise Escobes' corsage consisted of a very rare specimen in the orchid line.

Eight new members were initiated amid almost perfect team work in the presence of one hundred members and guests. The meeting proved to be a very interesting and business-like one after which visiting and reminiscing was indulged in at two beautiful orchid and heather decorated tables. Delicious refreshments were served and a nice time was had by all.

The Sister's on the decorating and reception committee were Hortense Jensen, Helen Holcomb, Wilma Schmidt, Sophie Fullmer, Lorraine Franke, Irene Moresco and Janet and Mary Fellman.

COLMA VISTA GRANDE PAYS TRIBUTE TO STATE MADAM PRESIDENT HERE

A large group of members of Colma Vista Grande Auxiliary No. 1848 and visiting members throughout the bay area gathered at the Eagles' hall, 3346 San Jose avenue, to pay tribute to the State Madam President Margaret Wetherald, State Inside Guard Lucy Thomas, and State Trustee Emmeline Mickler.

San Francisco No. 61, San Bruno, South San Francisco and Colma Vista Grande were co-hostesses for the official visit of the state madam president.

Welcome Seven Members Local President Dolores Warren led a demonstration of initiatory work and welcomed seven new members into the Eagles Auxiliary.

Four of the members joined San Francisco No. 61 and three joined Colma Vista Grande. Before the meeting opened a program consisting of a teen-age group was presented and sponsored by the San Francisco group. This group had been formed for the purpose of entertaining the veterans at Letterman hospital and for planning monthly visits to the vets.

Histories Read The history of each of the visiting auxiliaries were read from instituting until the present day.

The group was informed by the state madam president that each history would eventually be published in the "Mrs. Eagles" magazine that is sent to each member once a month. Jr. Past President Alberta Diebel had written the history of Colma Vista Grande and read the important events, that had transpired in the five years existence of the Colma group, beginning with the spreading of the charter in 1948 by Dora Black.

Mrs. Black then became Jr. past president and mother of the Auxiliary by appointment to this station by Bob McClennan, instituting grand deputy.

Madam Presidents She touched lightly upon the madam presidents that had helped to make the growing Auxiliary known throughout the state.

The Auxiliary escort team was complimented on their beautiful floor work.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Marge Lynch, hospitality chairman, and her committee consisting of: Mildred Kalinin, Helen Sifers, Elaine Wright, Marie Clausen, Harriet Meinzer and Bertha Vilanuna.

A Clean Stove Saves Fuel

The easy way to clean an oven. Leave a bowl of soapy water and ammonia in the oven overnight with the door shut tight. Next morning, scrub the interior with a stiff brush. Dirt and grease wash off easily, thanks to pre-softening.

These are days of hearty meals and much home entertainment—and time to check the efficiency of your kitchen to save you time and money. A good start is the kitchen range. Sputtering burners and smoky ovens are signs of trouble and wasted fuel. A good rule to follow is "a clean stove cooks better, saves fuel and lasts longer." But don't make a chore of it. Keep your stove in working order. Like the proverbial "stitch-in-time," constant care saves hours of hard labor.

Wipe the top and burners with a soapy cloth after each use, but let the stove cool first. Enamel may crack if water is applied while hot. However, wipe up spills with a towel, lest they leave permanent stains. Follow with soap and water when the stove has cooled.

To keep carbon from jamming the pilot light, first turn it off; then scrub the housing with a soft wire brush and wash with a soapy cloth. Make sure surrounding surfaces are completely dry before you relight it, and that connections are "seated" correctly. Pour grease off the broiler while it is still warm, but let it cool before you soak and scrub it in hot soapsuds. Rub mineral oil on the racks occasionally and they'll resist rust better and longer. Treat the deep well cooker as you would any aluminum kettle. Lift it out and scrub with hot soapsuds, particularly along the outer edges. Non-insulated covers can be tub-washed, but insulated covers should just be wiped clean with a damp cloth.

RARER THAN GOLD

Gold, which is usually thought of as a rare metal, is practically in overabundance when compared with the platinum group metals. The world's annual production of these precious metals—platinum, palladium, rhodium, ruthenium, iridium and osmium—amounts to only about one-fiftieth that of gold.

THE OUTDOORS

Violations Hit Peak
SAN FRANCISCO—The number of California hunting and fishing law violators—and the fines they paid—topped all previous records in 1952, it is revealed by a report from the Department of Fish and Game.

Wardens cited an average of 21 errant sportsmen each day of the year. There were 7,914 convictions on file for the 12-month period.

Fines assessed by California judges came to $292,000, topping the previous high mark of $274,000 set in 1948. The average defendant paid $36.90 for his offense.

E. L. Macaulay, chief of the Department's wildlife protection branch, stated that the $38,000 in fines collected in October was the highest monthly figure of the year. A new law set at the 1951 session of the Legislature accounted for 19 per cent of the year's arrest total. More than 1,500 hunters were arrested for carrying a loaded gun in an automobile.

"Isn't it a shame that hunters have to be arrested for their own protection?" Macaulay asked. "These persons were menacing their own lives as well as other sportsmen's by their carelessness. State wardens will continue their drive for greater safety in the field."

Just for Ducks
PITTSBURG—Just for ducks, a trio of San Francisco Bay area hunters have shelled out a total of $1,020—$340 each for 75 birds over the limit—a $20 fine for each duck.

Judge Michael M. Gatto of Pittsburg ordered the errant trio's bail forfeited when they failed to show up for a hearing after two postponements.

Defendants were: Dr. Henry C. Veach, (450 Sutter street), and R. P. Paoli (2530 Lombard street), of San Francisco, and J. R. Callaghan of (467 Lincoln avenue), Palo Alto.

The three were arrested in November, by State Fish and Game Wardens E. M. McLaurin and W. S. Talbot.

Gift to Mexico
SAN FRANCISCO—Director Seth Gordon of the California Department of Fish and Game has announced that 100 of the State's famed Chinese pheasants have been given to the Republic of Mexico as brood stock, in return for that Nation's help in stocking the Salton Sea with game fish.

from Gulf of California waters. The ringnecks, requested by the Mexican government to help establish the bird near Mexico City, were flown to Mexicali from Brawley in a Mexican Army plane.

Biologists' 1st Confab
SAN FRANCISCO—For the first time since its founding, the California Fish and Game Biologists' Association will not hold an annual conference this year.

The yearly business meeting was cancelled as an economy move, according to an announcement from Willis A. Evans, chairman. The organization is made up of State Department of Fish and Game biologists.

Worst Sardine Season
TERMINAL ISLAND—California experienced its worst sardine fishing season last year since the State first started keeping catch records 37 years ago.

The total 1952-53 landings of 3-320 tons only equalled "one fair—not outstanding—day's landings during past seasons," according to the California Department of Fish and Game. Commercial sardine fishermen hauled in more than 700,000 tons in the 1936-37 record season, and 130,000 tons in 1947-48, the previous low.

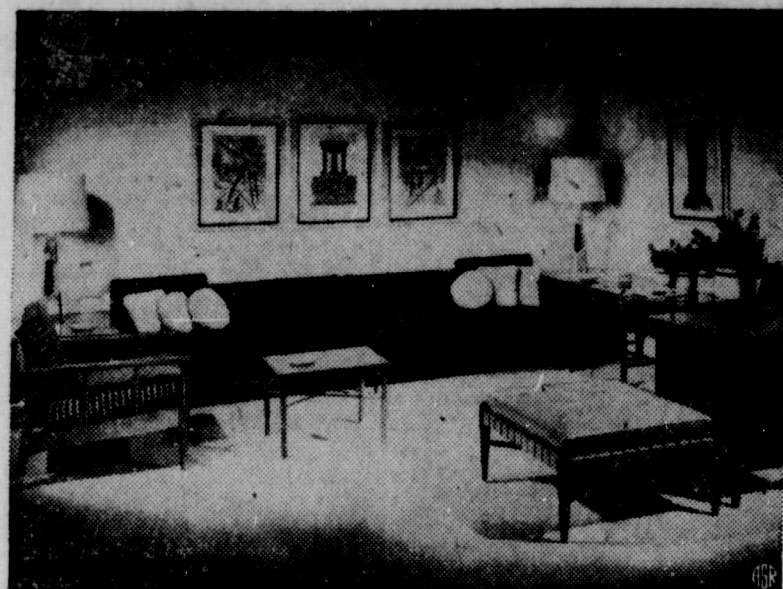

The present catastrophe, predicted by Department biologists more than a decade ago, underscores the Department's plea for strict regulation and management of the fishery until it can recover. The Departmental recommendation asks that the California Fish and Game Commission be given the necessary regulatory power by the Legislature.

Meanwhile, the Sardine Industry Advisory Committee has urged the Legislature that future sardine fishing laws be set by the State's Marine Research Committee.

Last December's landings contributed 631 tons to the year's microscopic total and the season's end on February 1 found the commercial fleets fishing for anchovies as a substitute for sardines, and the less desirable jack mackerel for the preferred—but scarce—Pacific mackerel.

Low spawn survival of Pacifics, plus over-fishing "has reduced this fishery to the same status as the sardine—meaning that for commercial purposes neither fishery exists at present," it was stated by Dr. Frances N. Clark, supervisor of the State Marine Fisheries Laboratory.

Furniture Fashions

The low silhouette, which makes small rooms look larger, is the big furniture fashion news this year. These new low pieces—and it goes for living room tables as well as sofas and chairs—appear to occupy little room area but provide maximum seating and surface space.

The handsome Modern room shown above, a study in black and white, is part of a series of room scenes commemorating the 75th anniversary of Grand Rapids, Michigan, as a furniture producing city. Interesting style notes are the walnut coffee table, which comes in a choice of decorator colors: white, chartreuse, blue and turquoise; and the leather-laced, foam rubber-covered "loafer," in the foreground. It is 30 inches square and seats two comfortably. Legs are ebonized walnut.

The sectional sofa and the diversified occasional tables may be arranged in a variety of ways, depending on the requirements of the hostess—whether for the serving of party or family meals—or just for everyday living.

"Good Old Fashioned" Ways Improved in Modern Days

By ANN GARY—ANS Features

TIME WAS when the man of the house took one look at the Spring housecleaning and ducked out to see the boys until the crises had passed but today there's no need for alarm.

With spring just around the corner—and it really is—you'll soon be hard at work cleaning your home from stem to stern. It can be done smoothly, without upsetting the family comfort and routine if you'll start now by fitting some of the special jobs into your regular cleaning.

Use either a furniture wash—made by combining three tablespoons of linseed oil and one of turpentine to a quart of hot water—or a furniture cream such as Stanley's, which both cleans and polishes in one operation. If there are layers of old polish, you first may need to use a liquid solvent wax to remove them. If you apply furniture cream, polish immediately to complete dryness. Whatever you use, be sure to use it sparingly.

Every year or so, it's a good idea to unscrew and remove the drawer handles of chests and desks before cleaning and polishing. Dust gathers in these crevices, marring the appearance, no matter how hard and thoroughly you clean and polish the rest.

In cleaning heavily carved furniture, apply furniture cream sparingly with a soft brush moistened, not dripping, with furniture cream. Polish with a stiff brush covered with flannel. Then buff with a regular flannel polishing cloth to be sure it is completely dry.

By beginning now and taking it in easy stages, tempers remain good and the job gets done without even "unseating" friend hubby and family.

Mrs. America Learns About Pancake Day

Glamorous Mrs. America of 1953, Evelyn Joyce Schenk, was fascinated by the interesting story of Pancake Day as told to her by jovial Aunt Jemima.

It seems that centuries ago women flocked to church on Shrove Tuesday, the day before Lent began—many with pancakes and griddles in hand! And why pancakes on that particular day? It was Pancake Day, of course, an ancient food holiday that is celebrated today in many communities throughout the world. When the day was first observed, the pancakes were prepared by a symbolic formula prescribed by the church. The tolling of the church bell was the signal for the housewives to begin mixing their pancakes.

This year Pancake Day will be celebrated on February 17, so why not plan a Pancake Day party in your own home in honor of this ancient food holiday. The merrymaking that surrounds the baking of pancakes is always fun and certain to get everyone in the party mood. Of all the many pancake recipes, bride-of-a-year Mrs. America chose this one as her husband's favorite. Serve it today to celebrate the ancient custom of Pancake Day as well as throughout the rest of the year.

Mrs. America's Favorite Pancake Recipe
1/2 pound pork sausage meat 2 1/2 cups milk
2 cups pancake ready-mix 1 beaten egg
Fry pork sausage meat slowly for about 15 minutes until lightly browned. Drain off the drippings.
Add milk and beaten egg to the pancake mix, stirring lightly. Fold the pork sausage and 3 tablespoons of the drippings into batter. Bake the pancakes on a hot, lightly greased griddle or in the frying pan. Serve with hot syrup and fried apple rings.

Hurling Ace Leaves For Glendale Camp

Eddie Cereghino, Jefferson graduate who was signed by the New York Yankees at a reported $80,000, left last weekend for Glendale where the Yanks open their first of two rookie camps.

The 19-year-old hurling ace who led Jefferson high to two straight baseball championships says he doesn't know what's in store for him. "There's another rookie school at Lake Wales, Fla., after Glendale. From there the Yanks open the regular spring training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. But I won't know where I'm going until after I get to Glendale. They may farm me out for all I know—or they may send me to St. Petersburg," he says.

14 Pro Wins
Cereghino has racked up 14 pro victories in the less than two year period since he got his sheepskin at Jefferson.

Four of those came with the Seals in the Pacific Coast league—his first year, and ten in the American Association with Kansas City last year.

His two top efforts were both in the PCL, Cereghino says. He nosed out veteran Seattle hurler Al Lyons, 3 to 2, at Seals stadium and turned in a 3-1 winning effort against Los Angeles.

Though still a farmhand, the local youth says he won't be happy until he's working in Yankee stadium... in a Yankee uniform.

The young mound phenomenon has been keeping in shape with daily workouts at Jefferson.

Through the Works
"I keep loose that way—go through the works, pepper, running. I don't throw every day, but I always hit."

He worked about three or four hours every afternoon.

Cereghino bated 203 with Kansas City last season.

After hurling ten straight wins at Kansas last year he lost eight straight but that hasn't got him too upset.

Heat was the big factor, he says.

Get Used To It
"It takes five or six years to get used to it," he said. "It wears you out gradually. At first I didn't know what it was—could get my curve ball to work or fast ball to snap. But they say get used to it after awhile.

"I had one good game after that—it was late in September at Milwaukee, where it was cool."

In the American association Cereghino was named to the loop's all-star team, his "biggest thrill in baseball so far."

Mrs. Cereghino (Janet, bride of three months) won't see much of her talented husband for a while until the regular season starts.

Makes It Nice
"I'll take her awhile to get used to traveling around. But she likes baseball—that makes it nice."

Janet plans to remain here, although the couple will give up their modern apartment at 20 Second avenue, while Eddie is in Glendale. They plan to rejoin when he's settled down.

As to where he will be any baseball fan's guess.

BLANCHARD, LOVELACE LEAD JEFFS TO FIRST WIN OVER SOUTH CITY

Larry Blanchard and Wayne Lovelace formed a point-making conspiracy against South San Francisco Friday night to wipe out a much-too-old record and settle Jefferson firmly in the PAL cage lead.

The local pair racked up 20 points apiece as the Jeffs downed the Warrior varsity, 60-47, marking the first time in history that the Indian varsity has whipped the South City team in a cage contest.

The sour note of the evening was struck, however, when the Warriors' 30s topped the local five, 48-40, to move them out of the lead in league standings. The upset win was the first official victory for the South City team.

They had defeated Burlingame the previous week, but an ineligible substitute guard was used and the game was forfeited to the Panthers.

Guard Jerry With accounted for 16 points for the local lightweight to take runner-up spot for scoring honor. Ralph Garcia netted 17 points for the victors.

The Jeff varsity built up a 25-18 margin at halftime and retained the lead throughout, with Lovelace hitting for ten points in the final quarter. Burl Lenier and Bob Butcher scored 12 and 11 points, respectively to lead the Warriors.

Jeff Cagers Hold 2nd, 3rd Scoring Spots

Jefferson high took over second and third spots in the PAL scoring race this week, trailing only Burlingame's Charlie Bogle, who has racked up 116 points.

Runnerup is Larry Blanchard, with 86 points, while Wayne Lovelace holds down third place with 79 points. Don Delbon moved out of the top five, but is still hitting at a fast clip, with 69 points to date.

Blanchard and Lovelace both netted 20 points in last week's South San Francisco contest to secure their standing in league scoring.

None of Jefferson's 30s are in the top five scorers.

HILLTOP CABBERS INCREASE LEAD IN LOCAL KEG LEAGUE

Hilltop Cab was firmly entrenched in first place this week in the Daly City-Colma Bowling league after their three-game trouncing of hapless Hilltop Market Tuesday night.

The leading team, behind Paul Bruch, who hit high individual game of the evening with 233, now have 36 wins against 21 losses, and are a full four games out in front of the closest teams, Central Club and Vince and Fred's.

The latter two teams lost their chances to gain on the league leaders by losing two games each to the opposition.

The fourth place team, Daly City-Colma Lions, also took two games, as did the fifth place outfit, Thur Meat Co.

Babe DeLuca of Central Club set a new standard Tuesday night for high individual series, rolling 626. He compiled the score with games of 214, 220 and 192. His effort bested the previously top series of Hilltop Cab's Pete Colodi by one pin.

Hilltop Cab claimed high team game, bowling 973 from scotch, and high team series, 2753.

Tuesday night marked the 19th week of the league, with 11 weeks remaining.

Tomorrow Marks Semi-Finals in Local Yo-Yo Tournament

THREE WINNERS WILL MEET AT CENTER ON FOLLOWING WEEKEND

Tomorrow marks the final day for those who wish to compete in the yo-yo contests sponsored by the Daly City recreation department. The contests tomorrow will be the last of a series held at Marchbanks, Edgewood and Lincoln playgrounds.

The three winners of the contests will join the previous six winners at the community center on Saturday, Feb. 14, for: 1) Play-ground champion, and 2) Daly City yo-yo champion.

Last Saturday's winners were: Ken Franges of Westlake, who took first place in the Marchbanks contest; Tom Kollman at Edgewood and Patrick Smith at Lincoln.

This Saturday marks the last chance for the Daly City youngsters to enter these contests. A chance for all the prizes given at the state finals at Berkeley is at stake. Some lucky youngster will represent Daly City in the final contest.

Contests will be held at Lincoln playground, Marchbanks Park and Edgewood playground.

For only $3 per year, keep abreast of all civic and public occurrences in Daly City. THE RECORD, PLaza 5-4321.

Colma Takes Two From OLPH in Rec League Cage Tilts

The boys from Colma school took two close games from OLPH last Saturday in the recreation department basketball league. The Colma Bs beat the OLPH Bs in a close 14-13 struggle while the A team beat OLPH As 24-21 in another thrill packed game.

The Brisbane cagers kept their winning streak intact by defeating the Bayshore Bs 43-8. The Brisbane As won by forfeit because the Bayshore A team failed to appear.

The league has developed into a tight race as the players improve. Brisbane leads both the A and B leagues by a slim one-game margin. This could be upset at any meeting.

Tomorrow's games, which are at the mid-season mark, will shed some light on the championship situation. Colma plays Bayshore, while OLPH battles the tough Brisbane squads.

Final Home Games For Jeffs Tonight, Tuesday

Jefferson high's league leading cagers play their last two home games tonight and Tuesday.

At 7:30 tonight in the Jefferson gym the local 30s will meet Half Moon Bay, with the varsity game following.

Starting line-up for the varsity will be: Tom Costello, Wally Honeywell, guards; Wayne Lovelace, center; Don Delbon, Larry Blanchard, forwards.

Tuesday afternoon the local cagers meet San Mateo here, with the varsity game beginning at 3:15 o'clock, in the final home game of the '53 season.

Tomorrow at the Stanford pavilion the varsity will take on the Indian frosh in a practice tilt. Game time is 2 p.m.

RALPH'S CLEANERS PEGGED FAVORITES IN CAGE TOURNEY

Behind the unerring hook shot of Harvey Canon, Ralph's Cleaners swept to their second win in the county tourney last Sunday, downing Menlo Motors 62-51 at the Menlo gym.

Canon poured through 20 points during the evening. Teammates Dick Blatters and Bob Lincoln scored 15 and 13 points, respectively.

The local aggregation held a 25-18 lead at half-time and held on to a safe margin throughout the second period.

The win established Ralph's as the favorite to capture the B division of the county tournament.

The Cleaners' gang will meet Necalis of South San Francisco Sunday at 12 noon at the Menlo gym for the semi-finals. Winner of this contest will vie for the championship that evening at 7 o'clock.

Scoring by other members of the team was: Dillon, 4; Garre, 5; Danulez, 3; Savage, 2.

San Francisco State Gators Face Hottest Independent Club in Two-Game Series

San Francisco State's basketball team, after losing three in a row, faces California's hottest independent club in a two game series this week.

The Gators host Sacramento State tonight starting at 8:15 p.m. on the Lake Merced campus, then oppose the Hornets tomorrow night in Sacramento. The S. F. State jaycees play Lowell High in the Friday preliminary, starting at 6:30 p.m.

San Francisco dropped a 65-63 thriller to San Jose State on Wednesday and then lost a pair to Nevada at Reno Friday and Saturday to complete the "black week."

Coach Dan Farmer said yesterday: "I have a good basketball team and I have no alibis over the Reno losses. Nevada was the better team on both nights."

The Gators have an 11-5 record. Farmer believes his scorers are overdue and hopes they will begin to click against Sacramento.

The Hornets, with a 15-3 season mark, hold a decision over the strong Olympic Club team.

Al Desin, State's veteran center, took over the scoring lead last week, scoring 58 points in three games for a total of 199. Charles Miller, who has been leading all year, dropped to second with 180.

Farmer hopes to match Sacramento's height and experience with speed. The Gators are one of the fastest teams in Northern California and if the bucket makers find the range this will be a lively series.

50,000 Fingerlings Planted in Lake Merced; More Later

The waters of Lake Merced are now richer by 50,000 fingerling rainbow trout.

The five and six inch fish were planted there all last week by the state fish and game commission.

Of the total, 25,000 fish were tagged for growth research purposes.

A fish and game official said the early planting is an experiment being conducted this year by the department.

If the rainbows thrive after only a short time in the hatchery the commission says the expense of raising the fish will be reduced.

Another 50,000 fish will be planted about April, to ready the lake for the May opening of trout season.

MEETING OF ALL D.C. PLAYGROUND PERSONNEL HERE

A meeting of all playground personnel was called by James Mason, director of recreation, last Wednesday night to discuss future plans for the Daly City playgrounds.

The meeting was held to formulate plans for a playground leadership and to provide for the most efficient playground coverage possible.

The meeting was attended by James Mason, director of recreation; Edward Mosconi, supervisor of playground directors; Frank Ingersoll, Leslie Linhares and Lorraine Cady of Marchbanks Park; Bobbie Carroll of Edgewood playground; Leo Selmi of Lincoln playground; Dick Milkovich of Westlake playground and Mr. D. Przybyla and Mrs. A. Brawley, playground directors from the Jefferson elementary school district.

Two new playground leaders were introduced into the department during the last week. They are Bobbie Carroll of Daly City, and Harry Redlick, a senior at San Francisco State college. Both are experienced in youth guidance and physical education and will contribute much to Daly City's recreation program, according to Mason.

Miss Carroll will replace Lorraine Cady at Edgewood Park. Miss Cady has been transferred to Marchbanks Park to supervise the smaller youngsters in the crowded apparatus area.

Redlick will replace Leo Selmi at Lincoln Park. Leo is leaving the department to pursue the teaching profession in Burlingame.

Argentine Heavy To Make U.S. Debut

A new Argentine heavyweight, Edgardo Romero, will make his American ring debut Monday night at the Fiesta building in San Mateo in a 10-round main event with Junior Payne of Oakland.

The match is being co-promoted by William P. Kyne and Jim Kehoe and will mark the first appearance of professional boxers at the San Mateo arena, where weekly wrestling matches are being staged by Kehoe.

Romero, who has been training at Billy Newman's Gym in San Francisco for several weeks under management of Tommy Arevalo, is 23 years old, 6 feet, 1 inch tall and weighs 240 pounds.

Born in LaPampa, Argentina, of Patagonia Indian ancestry, Romero has an impressive record of victories scored in Buenos Aires, San Juan, Chile and Uruguay. In 18 fights during the last two years he won nine by knockouts, seven by a decision and was held to a draw twice. He holds a one-round knockout victory over Rafael Iglesias, the South American that Kyne imported last year.

Ed Whitney Named As KCBS Executive

Ed Whitney, Daly City police commissioner, a veteran radio man and entertainer, who goes professionally as "Pete Worth," has been named program director at KCBS effective Monday, replacing Fred Ruegg who will go to New York March 1 as assistant director of labor relations for Columbia Broadcasting System.

Arthur Hull Hayes, CBS vice president in San Francisco and general manager of KCBS, announced the appointment, saying: "While we regret losing Fred Ruegg, we are confident that Pete Whitney will make an excellent replacement."

Worth brings an enviable background to the position. He started in the radio industry at KOMO-KJR in Seattle as an announcer. He came to San Francisco and joined KQW, now KCBS, in 1943 and in the past ten years has served as a singer, actor, emcee, announcer and writer-producer. He has rounded out his knowledge of the management and sales end of the radio business and has been a lecturer on radio at San Francisco State college for the past four years.

Worth is that rarity, a native San Franciscan. He was born here November 24, 1911. During his academic career, he attended California College of Arts and Crafts and the Academy of Advertising Art. He was active in school, being a member of the drama society, playing the saxophone and clarinet, was on the swimming team and was a school entertainer. While at school he organized a band and toured the Orient during the summer vacations.

Pete spent 19 months as an infantryman in World War II and was hospitalized in Germany during this period.

He enjoys woodworking, furniture refinishing, weight lifting, swimming and "beachcombing."

Pete and his artist wife, Susan, live with daughters Nicola, 10½, and Gabrielle, 3½, at 843 South Mayfair in Daly City.

Members of the Daly City fire department, headed by Chief J. E. Kennedy, placed 100 red plastic hearts in stores and other places of business throughout Daly City this week. It is our hope that these hearts will be filled by the end of the campaign, which is Feb. 28.

Heart Association fund campaigns are new, compared to other worthy campaigns. The local association is only three years old. The state association is four years old and the American association is five years old.

It was learned today that 25 per cent of all money collected in the plastic hearts will go to the American Heart Association, five per cent will go to the state association, and the remaining 70 per cent remains in the county to be used for rehabilitation of heart cases as well as medical education for local physicians.

We would like to explain that the San Mateo Heart Association is not in the United Crusade or in the Community Chest. There is only one financial drive held and that is in February.

The question asked by many people has been, "Why get all excited about heart disease now?" The answer is quite simple when all the facts are known about it. We hope by the following facts and figures you can see why it is so vital that we understand the necessity for conducting such a financial campaign.

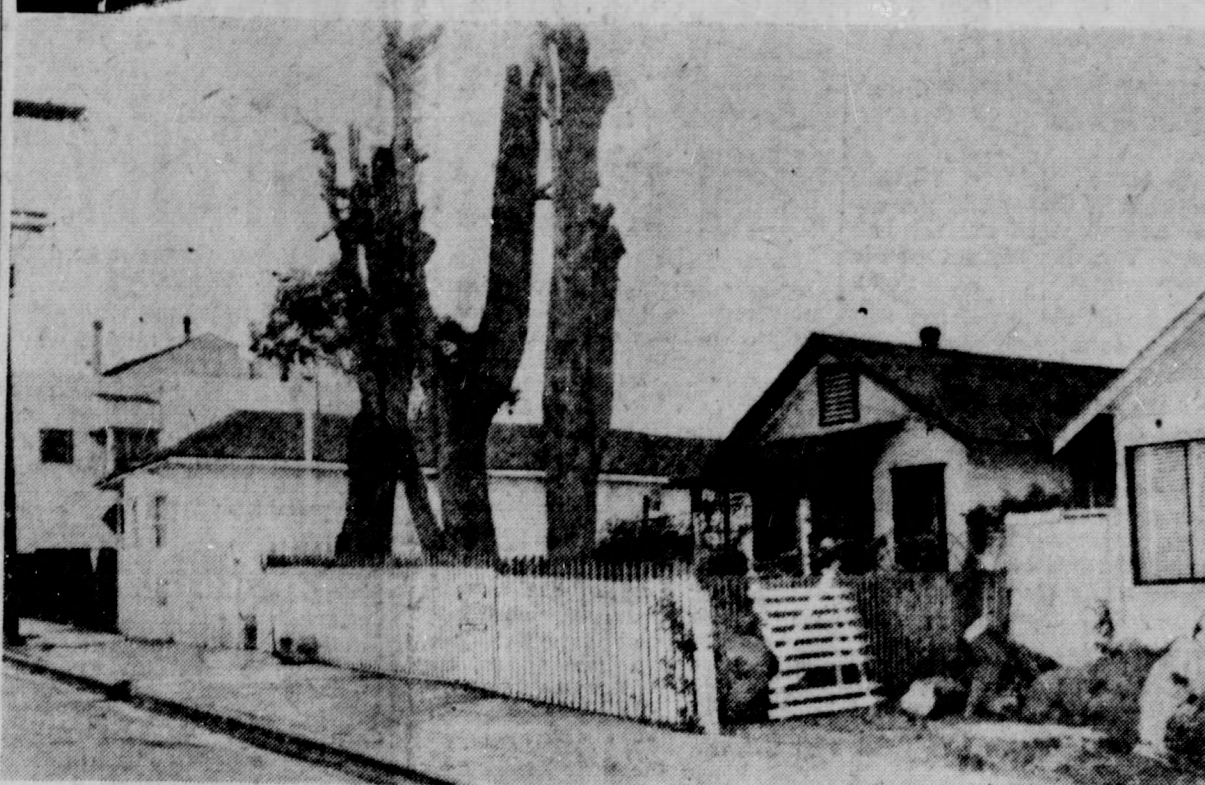

In 1951 heart disease caused about one half of all deaths in the United States. There were 763,000 deaths from heart disease, 217,000 deaths from cancer, 94,000 deaths from pneumonia, 30,000 deaths from tuberculosis, 25,000 deaths from diabetes.

It can readily be seen that heart disease is the greatest killer of all, and by the appalling number, something must be done to combat this disease.

Heart disease is not only a killer, it is a disease that limits the activities of those suffering from the disease. There are over 10,000,000 people in the United States with some type of heart trouble. 500,000 of these people are elementary and high school children. With the above information in mind, and when you see the red plastic hearts in the various places, please drop a few coins in them.

Cypress Trees on Los Olivos Street Receive Belated Haircut

MINUS SOME foliage, the 200 block on Los Olivos has a new look these days. Twenty-eight residents of the block petitioned the council last month to have the cypress trees trimmed. Leave days of old, the trees foliage acted as an adequate front for less savory type establishments than exist there today.

Things To Come
The Veteran Firemen's Association of the Daly City fire department will hold their annual banquet at the Colonial on February 7th. The Colonial is located on Junipero Serra and San Pedro road.

This banquet is held to honor our outgoing president and to welcome the new president and officers for 1953.

Dr. Harold D. Chope, Director of the County Department of Public Health and Welfare, in making the request to conduct the study, said, "There is a great need for the development of a master plan for a really competent mental health program in this county." Dr.

Scientists have described and named between 625,000 and 1,500,000 kinds of insects.

Defense Exercise To Be Held February 18

Nine bay area counties and a majority of 72 Bay cities, including Daly City, will participate in a special Civil Defense Test Exercise on February 18, from six p.m. to 12 midnight, it was announced today.

The drill, called up by special authorization of Governor Earl Warren, will be the third such test to be held within the past six months. This time, however, only the Bay Region itself will be involved.

In making the announcement, Harry Stoops, Regional Coordinator of the State Office of Civil Defense for the Bay Area, states: "This region has been selected for an exclusive communications operation and coordination drill, under direct supervision of General Walter M. Robertson, State Director of Civil Defense, and his State Service Chiefs. The exercise will be built around enemy attack incidents prepared at State headquarters in Sacramento. None of our Regional Coordinators or Service Chiefs will have detailed knowledge of the attack. We will go to work on February 18 exactly as though it were the 'real thing,' and try to handle the 'disaster' as it comes."

Test Functioning
Incidents involving atomic, conventional, high explosive and incendiary bombs, as well as acts of sabotage, will serve to test functioning of Law Enforcement, Fire Medical, Radiological, Supply and Welfare Services of Civil Defense under disaster conditions.

The test will involve some two thousand Civil Defense volunteers at Control Centers in approximately 72 Bay Area cities, nine counties, and the Regional Control Center in the Berkeley hills. The Bay Region is the first of 10 State Civil Defense Regions to undergo an exclusive Command Post drill under State supervision. The general public will not participate, and there will be no movement of equipment or personnel.

Learned "Great Deal"
"We have learned a great deal," points out Stoops, "in past exercises, from the standpoint of communications between the various cities and counties involved in the disaster planning, and in the coordination of all services. Just how much we have learned will be decided by the State Director and his staff who will oversee the entire six-hour operation. The test, because of its concentration in this area alone should bring about vast improvements in our timing and in the speed of mobilization of our resources."

Counties which will participate in the exercise of February 18 are: Alameda, San Francisco, San Mateo, Marin, Contra Costa, Santa Clara, Napa, and Solano.

Child and Money Will Be Theme Of PTA Classes

"How Does Your Child Learn About Money?" will be the theme of the second of a series of six parent-education classes, sponsored by Sheridan PTA, to be held Tuesday, February 10, at 8 p.m. at the Pilgrim Congregational church, 400 Randolph street. Mrs. Shirley Kahn, representative of the Family Life Education Service of the Marina Adult schools, will speak on the problems of the financial situation for the child from five to twelve years of age. A film and discussion period are included in the evening's program. The "M" street-car goes directly to the church where the classes are being held, which is located just six blocks east of the Junipero Serra-Worcester intersection.

HARD IRON
Originally developed to help the mining industry crush and grind ore, Ni-Hard, a nickel-chromium cast iron, is finding numerous applications in the cement, ceramic, paint and other industries for parts that are subjected to severe wear and abrasion. This material, having exceptional resistance to abrasion and wear, has proved to be one of the hardest commercial products of the iron foundry.

In The Past

TEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Thursday, February 4—Charles Russell McKoy, San Francisco, was given a stiff sentence of 90 days in the county jail Monday by Judge William J. Sweeney in Daly City police court, following an assault on Arch Bigazzi, auxiliary police officer, who tried to stop a fight between McKoy and an unnamed woman at Mission and Hillcrest drive, shortly after midnight Saturday.

Two Daly City police officers narrowly escaped serious injury early Tuesday morning on Mission street while chasing a speeding car which failed three times to yield to the police car siren. They finally had to crash into the car to stop it.

Officers Roland Petrocchi and Albert Benassini gave chase to the machine, speeding south on Mission street, blowing the siren near the Theta avenue crossing. The driver slowed down, pulling to the curb, then started out again. When he failed to stop the second time Officer Petrocchi, driving the patrol car, crowded him into the curb, but to avoid an accident, stopped, and the patrol car spun around in a complete turn.

Letters posted from Daly City to Colma (or vice versa) now only require 2 cents postage, where, believe it or not, the post office department used to require the regular 3 cents out of town postage.

The Daly City branch of the San Francisco post office department announced that, effective Monday, the Colma post office is now a branch of the San Francisco division.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, February 4—Three attractive girls of Oakland—Bertha La Fournaisa, 19; Marion Hanson (alias June Clark), 22; and Carolyn Lee Sansome, 24; were arrested in an Oakland apartment house Friday evening of last week about 5 p.m. on a bad check charge and brought to Daly City by Chief of Police James G. Reardon and Sergeant W. Sunderland, with Mrs. Reardon acting as police matron.

They were identified by Angelo Stampanoni Jr., proprietor of the Les Inn in Daly City, and Dominic Sambucetti, proprietor of the Colma Italian cafe, who said they cashed checks for the girls. Stampanoni and Sambucetti cashed worthless checks amounting to $63, it is asserted.

The four classes of Jefferson union high school met last Thursday to elect their officers for the spring semester.

The victorious candidates for the Seniors are: President, Winola Ford, who has been re-elected; vice president, Tony Compagno; secretary-treasurer, Joe Nicolett.

Miss Maria H. Navarro of the Bay View district in San Francisco became the bride of Angelo M. Torres, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon J. Torres of Los Olivos avenue Saturday afternoon of last week at All Hallows church in San Francisco.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, February 3—A suicide verdict was brought in by a coroner's jury after an investigation into the death of Mrs. D. LeBun, of Colma on Wednesday night. The inquest was conducted at the W. C. Lasswell mortuary establishment in Daly City under the direction of Coroner J. C. McGovern. The testimony showed that Mrs. LeBun suffered from a slight mental illness for some time and that she was despondent over her condition. She had also suffered a heart attack a week previous to ending her life.

SULPHUR SUBSTITUTE

A plant, which is now producing more sulphur dioxide than the combined manufacture of the rest of the free world, uses as its raw material the smelter gases from the huge nickel-copper smelter at Copper Cliff, Ontario. The liquefied gas which it produces is now being used as a much-needed sulphur in Canada's vast paper-making industry.
